Welders Threaten to Strike in West Coast Shipyards

Menace Offsets Bright News From Other Conferences Today

(By The Associated Press)

A jurisdictional strike of 8,500 AFL machinists at St. Louis was ended today, arbitration of the captive coal mine labor dispute proceeded at New York, and President Roosevelt's fact-finding board made ready for new hearings at Washington on the threatened nationwide railroad walk-out.

Offsetting in part these conciliatory moves, the threat of a west coast shipyard welders strike became more acute. A spokesman for the United Welders, Cutters & Helpers of America announced that about 1,500 men employed in Los Angeles shipyards had voted "to support a strike if it becomes necessary."

The welders have demanded, without success, that the AFL grant them a separate charter.

However, the California Shipbuilding Corporation, which has Maritime Commission orders for 17 "Liberty" cargo ships each costing more than $1,500,000, said after a conference with the AFL boilermakers union that there would be no attempt to collect dues from welders in that plant at present. Efforts to mediate the issue were going on in Washington.

Navy Dept. Concerned

Assistant Navy Secretary Ralph A. Bard expressed deep concern over the situation. He requested the welders to stay on the job and refrain "from any interference with production."

Termination of the three day general strike of machinists in the St. Louis industrial area was announced last night, although details of the peace formula were not revealed. The walkout, which tied up or slowed down work on millions of dollars worth of defense orders, stemmed from a triple jurisdictional dispute involving the AFL machinists, AFL hoisting engineers and AFL car-

Peru, Ind. Becomes Circus Ghost City

Peru, Ind., Nov. 27—(AP)—After a half century, showmen are deserting winter quarters from which, in the heyday of the big top, four circuses went out each year to tour the country.

James Tinkcom, manager of the Ringling Brothers-Barnum & Bailey circus 500-acre farm southeast of Peru, said today president John Ringling North had ordered him to clear out all remaining circus horses, wild animals and show paraphernalia.

"I don't believe," he said, "Mr. North intends to winter a circus in Peru in the future."

The farm will be used to raise hay and grain for the Ringling Sarasota (Fla.) quarters. Workmen are tearing wild animal cages and training arenas out of the big barns. They've pulled 126 gaily painted wagons—once worth $1,000 each—into a field and burned them.

They are turning this northern Indiana city of 12,000, the one time meeting place of the Miami Indian nation, into a ghost town of show business. They are breaking up the relics of a tradition going back to Civil War days.

The circus is leaving town again. This time it's not coming back.

The War Today!

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Telegraph Special Service)

The appointment of William C. Bullitt as special presidential observer in the Near East served to emphasize the vast and growing importance of this war-theatre which, in conjunction with the Russian front, may provide the decisive field of the war for land operations.

If and when the allies deliver the coup de grace to the Germans, it likely will be achieved in the main forces by striking at eastern Germany from Russian soil. Through the Near and Middle East will pour troops and resources to back this victory drive.

Should the time come when the British call on the United States for an expeditionary land force—and to my mind that need occasion no surprise—in all probability the necessity will arise from this Middle Eastern zone upon which hangs so much. For that reason alone it is essential that this country have such first-hand information as can only be secured by American observers like Bullitt.

To look at this situation from another angle, the only way Hitler can win the war as the cards now lie is to smash Russia, and break down through the Caucasus and into this selfsame Middle Eastern zone. That would in effect shatter the British naval blockade which is strangling him, and would provide him with fresh military bases from which he might pour out defeat against the allies.

Thus we see how vital is the outcome of the greatest desert battle of all time which is now raging across the hot wastes of Libya. Look at it through Hitler's eyes or from the allied viewpoint and the answer is the same—that battle must be won or a mirage of disaster may rise up out of the inhospitable sands.

Recognition of this is seen in the unceasing fierceness of the struggle which centers in the Regezh region south of the port of Tobruk. The great battle of the tanks, which finally died down from pure exhaustion and losses among these land destroyers on both sides, has for the moment given away to old fashioned infantry fighting with cold steel, though more tanks are being rushed into the conflict from reserve.

The battle is still too young for prophecy. Both Berlin and London are cautious and non-committal; only Rome exemplifies the perfect optimism in its claims. However, two important facts give us a certain amount of guidance.

Fuzziness

London, Nov. 27—(AP)—British fuzziness about American history cropped up again today in a story of a Thanksgiving celebration by American technicians working for British forces.

The story said "Lindbergh's Gettysburg Address" would be shown on a movie screen as a part of the observance.

The V has been widely employed, as in jewelry and clothing designs, but nobody took the trouble to patent the idea.

That step was reserved for Scotty and now it seems that all the commercial organizations utilizing the patriotic symbol of a battle-torn Britain may have to pay royalties to him.

Scott, general, bustling sales manager of a Tulsa boat company, got his bright idea recently when he designed a V-for-Victory boat pennant for a customer. In Pratho P. Scott didn't think up the V-for-Victory emblem, but he had a better idea. He got a patent on it, and now he stands to make a fortune from its commercial use.

The customer rejected the drawing but Scotty employed a patent attorney and advanced the necessary $150 for patent fees.

Plenty happened, and quickly! A search of the patent office files in Washington disclosed that the Tulsa had a good hunch. There was no patent on the V and one was issued to him.

For no sooner had it been granted than a dozen firms offered to negotiate with him for exclusive rights.

Price Control Bill Faces New Threat; House in Recess

Farm-GOP Bloc Seeking to Have It Recommended to Committee

(By The Associated Press)

Washington, Nov. 27—(AP)—Victorious over a much broader substitute proposal, the administration-backed price control bill found new difficulties ahead today as house groups lined up for an attempt to force the legislation back to the committee for additional study.

There was a temporary lull in the actual battle, for the house was celebrating the second Thanksgiving day with a recess. This postponed until Friday a vote on whether the measure should carry a clause empowering the government to buy and sell commodities to keep their price stable. The administration favors such a provision.

The pending bill weathered its first test yesterday by a margin of 218-to-63, when the house crushed an attempt to substitute stringent control of all prices, rents and wages for the administration plan of imposing price ceilings on only those commodities whose prices got out of line.

Double Dissatisfaction

But opposition was brewing on two important points. The Republicans were set against a proposal to license dealers handling regulated commodities, and representatives of farm states did not favor the omission of wage control. This double dissatisfaction evoked speculation on the possibility of a coalition drive for recommitment.

Major Leader McCormack (D-Mass.) took the floor yesterday to caution the farm bloc that the measure was "eminently fair to agriculture" and that recommitment was "entirely out of the question."

First U. S. Marines Leave China Today

Shanghai, Nov. 27—(AP)—The first group of United States Marines being withdrawn from Shanghai departed today in a driving rain.

The contingent was taken by tender to the liner President Madison a few hours before her sailing. While the vessel was scheduled to call at Manila and Singapore, the destination of the Marines was not disclosed.

The second and final contingent of the Marines will leave aboard the liner President Harrison which arrived last night and will sail tomorrow if arrangements can be completed.

Tobruk Garrison Cuts Way Through To British Column

Seven-Months Siege Is Broken; Other News of Great Conflict

(By The Associated Press)

The Tobruk garrison, a conglomerate of British imperial troops and their Polish and Czech allies, has fulfilled its mission as a flank threat to the axis in Libya by striking through to a junction with the main British offensive on that turbulent front, the British Middle East command announced today.

This was the reward of seven months under German and Italian siege.

The Germans and Italians sought to contain the garrison but, pointed by tanks brought by sea to the besieged port, the men of Tobruk thrust relentlessly through a land mine belt and siege intrenchments to captured Duda yesterday, and juncture with the New Zealanders was effected there early today.

This was achieved after the New Zealanders recaptured Regezh Tuesday night, according to the Middle East communiqué.

Divergent Claims

The British reported the recapture of Regezh today and the Italians that of Sidi Omar in divergent counter claims of success in the Libyan battle of armored armies whipped to new fury by reinforcements for both sides.

An authoritative British source said New Zealand forces had retaken Regezh, the pivotal point of the new battle of Libya.

The captors of Regezh were the same troops which took Bardia— which, the Italian high command reiterated today, is firmly in fascist hands.

That was the chief contradiction between the British and Italian reports, which also claimed successes in the new flare up of the Libyan battle on which may depend ultimate control of the whole North African coast.

Axis forces, the Italian war bulletin asserted, have retaken Sidi Omar, near the Egyptian-Libyan frontier, and have repulsed British sorties from Tobruk.

The British were said to have taken Regezh in the first thrust of their campaign, now in its 10th day, then lost it to the Germans and retaken it again last night.

May Hinge on Reserves

On reserves already thrown into the fight to replace depleted machines on both sides and on others still withheld may hinge the whole decision of the costly desert struggle.

In this British in Cairo expressed belief the advantage was theirs. They said the axis probably had exhausted most of its reserve strength with little chance of getting new tanks or armored cars across the Mediterranean.

In Russia, the German high command said, the Red army has lost heavily near and north of Rostov-on-Don, at the southern end of the long eastern front, and has been frustrated in a new attempt to break out of the Leningrad siege ring in the north.

Reds Admit Losses

Advices to Pravda, the organ of the Communist party, acknowledged that the Germans had made new advances toward Moscow. In this, they paralleled the Nazi war bulletin which, without detail, merely said there had been fresh German progress in the central and northern sector of the Russian front.

Pravda, however, declared that the Germans had been stopped on the frontal approach to the Red capital and for the past 10 days had been feeling out the northern and southern anchors of the soviet front.

Revolutionary

New York, Nov. 27—(AP)—A revolutionary fashion note was heralded today in New York's smartest men's fashion centers:

Long underwear is coming back.

Not the kind of "longies" that grandpa wore—the modern style is a two piece, streamlined, wooly but light, and designed to eliminate scratching.

The combination weighs approximately a pound and a half and contains about 50 per cent wool.

A survey of manufacturers involved in covering the male body for the winter showed a surprising boom in the long underwear business, with total consumption for 1941 estimated at 150 per cent over sales two years ago. Civilian purchases last month showed a 20 per cent increase over October last year.

The real boom is out in the country; few city slickers want to take a chance of being overheated or taken for a ride on the ankle length numbers. Of 18 men interviewed, not one owned up to having a pair. One man, however, met the problem halfway.

"My wife wears 'em" he said hopefully.

Payroll Blockade Broken by Decree of Atty. General

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 27—(AP)—The state payroll blockade which threatened to deprive approximately 20,000 state employees of their salaries during the Christmas shopping season was broken today after Attorney General George F. Barrett rescinded a blanket order impounding their November pay checks.

Called into a conference with Governor Green to end the 16-day payroll tangle, the attorney general directed Treasurer Warren Wright and Auditor Arthur C. Lueder late yesterday to issue checks for "regularly employed" state workers but cautioned the officials to follow a Cook county Circuit court injunction forbidding payment of "impounded" employees allegedly hired in violation of civil service laws.

Accountants in the auditor's office estimated that about $3,000,000 in payrolls had been held up by Barrett's original order but just how many so-called temporary employees would be deprived of salaries remained uncertain. Most officials agreed that only a few hundred would be affected.

Green Pledges Checks

Governor Green ordered the civil service commission to begin checking their records against payrolls to determine what salary vouchers should remain impounded and promised that November paychecks would be distributed to other employees "as soon as possible."

Most of the November paychecks were scheduled to be issued tomorrow but some delay was expected pending outcome of the civil service commission's survey.

Attorney General Barrett ordered the payrolls held up after Cook county Circuit Judge Philip J. Finnegan issued an injunction on Nov. 10 barring salary payments to temporary state employees he held were being appointed illegally to jobs that should have been filled by permanent employees.

Cold Weather Brings More Mallard Ducks

Urbana, Ill., Nov. 27—(AP)—Cold weather brought in more mallards but most of the diving ducks have left the Illinois and Central Mississippi river valleys. Frank C. Bellrose, Jr., assistant game technician for the Illinois Natural History Survey, reported today.

As a result, the waterfowl population of the two areas remained unchanged at 1,500,000. Bellrose said.

A big flight of mallards came in Saturday, he said, and 1,200,000 of the species, a 20 per cent increase in a week, were now in the Illinois river valley.

Relations Between Two Nations Reach Critical Juncture

Seven Months of Talk Fail to Materially Change Situation

Washington, Nov. 27—(AP)—President Roosevelt, Secretary of State Hull and Japanese envoys met this afternoon in an attempt to break the impasse in the Pacific peace talks.

Special importance was attached to the meeting but the White House would give no details as to the reasons underlying the conference.

It was for Japan to accept or reject Hull's formula of basic principles which the United States considered essential to the maintenance of peace and security in the Far East.

Those basic principles, in their application, would be diametrically opposed to the policies which Tokyo officials have proclaimed for "the greater East Asia co-prosperity sphere."

Relations between the United States and Japan reached this critical juncture yesterday after seven months of diplomatic negotiations had failed to find common ground for the settlement of existing differences.

Hull met the impasse by presenting a formal restatement of the American government's position to Admiral Kichisaburo Nomura, the Japanese ambassador, and Saburo Kurosu, special Japanese envoy.

For Practical Application

The restatement was accompanied by recommendations for their practical application by Japan. Practical application, it was said, would involve abandonment of aggression, withdrawal of troops from China and French Indo-China, and the inauguration of a peaceful economic policy.

The Japanese envoys were understood to have cabled the document to Tokyo, together with their own reports on conversations with Roosevelt and Hull.

Great Britain, China, the Netherlands and Australia all were kept informed of developments through their envoys here, and all gave their support to the attitude taken by the United States.

Hull took the vital interests of those Pacific powers into consideration in formulating recommendations for practical application of the basic principles he laid down.

Japan's acceptance of this basic formula would mean a resumption of diplomatic discussions.

Little Optimism Felt

However, since the Japanese have not agreed to any of these basic principles, there was little optimism in diplomatic circles here that the Japanese would resume the discussions—certainly.

Senator Norris Calls Petain Tool of Hitler

Washington, Nov. 27—(AP)—Senator Norris (Ind-Neb) called Marshal Petain "the tool of Hitler" today and suggested that the United States sever diplomatic relations with the Vichy regime because "we must assume that France is an enemy."

The Nebraska apparently was unimpressed by reports reaching New York overnight which hinted at the possibility of a hitch in current Franco-German negotiations, with Petain balking at outright partnership in the axis.

"I don't know whether that will make any difference in the eventual outcome," he said in an interview. "I don't know just what it means. Maybe the French will oppose Hitler. Apparently they are watching all (war) developments."

Unlike Norris, Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the senate foreign relations committee saw no immediate reason for a diplomatic break.

LYLE PRESCOTT

Prominent young Dixon business man, who today announced himself a candidate for the Republican nomination for representative in the Illinois house from the 35th senatorial district, composed of Lee, Whiteside and DeKalb counties. Details below.

Lyle Prescott in Race for Election as Representative

Lyle M. Prescott of Dixon today announced that he is a candidate for Representative in the Illinois General Assembly on the Republican ticket at next year's primary elections. Mr. Prescott has made a survey of the 35th senatorial district, which includes the counties of Whiteside, Lee and DeKalb, and he finds a widespread sentiment in favor of his candidacy and has been offered such enthusiastic support from all sections of the district that he has decided to place his name before the voters.

There are two Republicans and one Democrat to be nominated at the 1942 primaries. Representative George Brydia of Whiteside county will be a candidate to succeed himself and Representative Dennis Collins of DeKalb county will be a candidate for the state senate seat vacated by the resignation of Sen. Geo. C. Dixon. Mr. Prescott will be a candidate to succeed Rep. Collins in the House at Springfield.

Republicans generally will feel that with a thoroughly desirable and qualified candidate such as Mr. Prescott the Republican representation would be well divided over the district.

Is Widely Known

Lyle Prescott, known to his wide circle of friends as "Bud", is 34 years old, having been born Jan. 23, 1908 in Dixon, Lee county, Illinois. He received his education in the Dixon grade and high schools and at the University of Michigan. He is manager of the Prescott Oil Co., wholesale and retail oil dealers, having actively participated in this business for the past 12 years.

Mr. Prescott is married and has one child. He is a home owner, a property owner, a tax payer and vitally interested in economical, representative government. His intelligence, courage and general character fit him especially for the position he seeks.

This is Mr. Prescott's first time to offer his name for public office but he has always been interested and active in Republican politics and in support of the Republican ticket. He was elected the first chairman of the Young Republican club in Lee county.

From a business standpoint, this season looks the best ever, the experts said, both because of the huge stocks of available merchandise and because of the swollen size of public purchasing power resulting from the defense boom. About the only thing the stores are short of are silk stockings.

One factor that may swell the sales totals is the fact that, barring a sudden peace, this will be the last Christmas for some time that the stores will have the usual variety of merchandise. Priorities, scarcities and substitutions are beginning to affect production of consumer goods, but the bulk of this Christmas' goods were manufactured before the pinch came.

In Military Motif

Except that toys will have a somewhat heavier military motif, the experts said the stores were offering about the same choice of

FOR THE HOME

"But, Mother, everybody serves cocktails nowadays. And all the crowd drink. It just isn't smart to refuse." It was a daughter whose mother was urging her to take a stand against social drinking. The mother, who was not unaware of her daughter's exasperation and who also had a saving sense of humor, smiled mischievously and inquired, "Who was it who didn't want a party coat, because 'everybody' was wearing one? Who went in for swimming when 'everybody' was playing tennis, because she wanted to be different? Are you quite consistent, dear? You dare be different in other ways; in fact you rather pride yourself on it. Why not be different about the cocktail craze? By conformity you stand to lose some priceless things. Dare to be different. It's an asset in personality, besides being the safe, sane, and sensible thing to do."

Would that in every Christian home in the land there might be independent of this declaration of independence.

WE DARE TO BE DIFFERENT
It has the warrant of Holy Scripture (consider Romans 12: 2a and John 17:15). Think what a glorious sense of freedom it would give us. No need to spend more than we can afford "keeping up with the Joneses." No need to "vote the straight ticket" at the crack of the party lash. No need to sanction or keep silent about silly and subversive social customs. No need to be different "herd"; we dare be different. Wine at the table? Cocktails of an evening? Brandy in the pudding sauce? Rum in the fruit punch? Not a bit of it! For the sake of our homes, our children, and our country.

A Thought For Today

I know, and am persuaded by the Lord Jesus, that there is nothing unclean of itself; but to him that esteemeth anything to be unclean, to him it is unclean.—Romans 14:14.

We are all sinful. Therefore whatever we blame in another we shall find in our own bosoms.—Seneca.

The Price of Freedom

Scarcely a heart in America but was sick when reason failed and the captive mine controversy came to a strike instead of peaceable adjustment. Scarcely a heart but is sick to read of men shot down in bitter clashes that followed.

As we write, we mutter to ourselves "Why doesn't somebody DO something?" "Why is this sort of thing permitted?"

Six or seven years ago a certain young German in this country was surveying the strike situation, reading of the bitterness and disorder. He tossed it all in our face with a triumphant grin. "You see? This sort of thing is not permitted in Germany."

We answered, "No. But bad as it is, we believe here that it is all a part of the price of freedom, and that it is worth the price." The words came back to us, reading the current news of the mine disturbances. They are still true words.

Certainly it would have been better had John Lewis seen the light earlier, and agreed to arbitration before 30,000 tons of steel production were irrevocably lost. Certainly the time must come, and the sooner the better, when the "I want what I want when I want it" attitude in all men wielding a powerful influence on the general welfare must yield to a sense of proportion, a broad view of the whole people's necessities. But in the meantime—

The President was patient, long-suffering, and careful to secure to the miners and to Lewis every inch of their democratic rights in the face of what most of the country believes to have been a misuse of those rights.

Other people have rights, too, and it is their right to be assured that a mighty effort being made to create defense force as a national policy is not nullified by the capricious exercise of technical rights by a small group.

The "easy" solution, on the face of it, might have been to clap Lewis into a concentration camp at the outset, and drive the miners to work at bayonet point. But that would not have been a wise, long-term solution. Further, it wouldn't have worked.

With all our blundering, all our turbulence and lack of order, we have gotten over this hurdle, though the problem is yet unsolved. Even the sick feeling we have when we see temporary disturbance and disruption does not justify lack of faith that in the long run ours is the better way; that it is part of the price of freedom; and that, looking at it the long way with all the future before us, it is worth the price.

Practical Good Neighborliness

There is a chance that the United States is over-selling its Good Neighbor policy in South America. Too many well-meant good-will journeys, too much emphasis on words and propaganda, too much talk, and not enough action.

Priorities have hit the Good Neighbor policy, just as they have hit a lot of other things. Many people south of the Rio Grande, anxious to order American goods, ready for once with hard American dollars to pay for them, have been told "Not now. We're busy with defense."

Much of Latin America is sympathetic with American foreign policy. The American defense effort is pretty well understood. Nevertheless Latin patience wears thin just as quickly as North American patience. Unable to receive goods from Germany, such buyers depend absolutely on filling their needs from the United States. It is a golden opportunity. But to impose on circumstance, to assume that because Germany is for the moment out of the running, goods can be delayed and delayed, is to take too great a chance.

Further, these delays may hinder prompt delivery from South America of raw materials badly needed in our own defense effort. Thus, to deliver goods promptly to South America is just as much a part of the American defense drive as to make guns and planes for Britain.

A veteran Central American diplomat, sympathetic to the United States, and a delegate to many Pan American meetings, shook his head recently at the sight of a North American "good-will" party, and said "Sentiment is wonderful, but it's economics that count." And fortunately some North Americans, like Lieut. Col. R. B. Lord of the Economic Defense Board, are coming to realize the same thing. Said Colonel Lord, "You can send them all the books and moving pictures you want, but deny them goods or hold them up for exorbitant prices and it will be of no avail."

All this is just another proof of the "all-out" nature of defense in such times as these. The task is bigger than merely building ships and guns. It touches every phase of life. It implies producing and shipping to the markets of countries whose friendly co-operation is a necessary part of that policy. It implies actually increasing production and distribution at home of every product which does not interfere with the direct defense effort.

It implies that every step which strengthens the country and its people internally, and in relation to other friendly countries, improves its position in relation to those countries which are not friendly.

Some men tell where they've been—and take home a box of candy besides.

Isn't it remarkable how salesgirls can smell a piece of ribbon and tell how long it is?

Lots of writers dwell in attics because few of them can live on first stories.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON
(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc., reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, Nov. 26.—Those haughty mines in Dutch Guiana would have been safe enough from Hitler for another few days—probably a few years and perhaps forever.

Dispatch of American troops to guard them was a master-diplomatic stroke by Mr. Roosevelt for the edification of wabbling Vichy and wayward Tokyo. The move was a smoldering diplomatic announcement that this government will not be bound to continental United States in protecting its war interests.

To Vichy this meant adjoining French Guiana, and its air base would fall at a nod from FDR. Petain also knows that he may expect that nod if he sells out to the new German order.

To Japan a subtle reminder was conveyed that the same Dutch government in London is also running the Dutch East Indies. Tokyo was thus informed, she could expect similar U. S.-Dutch cooperation out there in her path.

It is true. Roosevelt edged nearly half-way to Dakar in the same move. But that military phase of the matter is supposed to have been a minor consideration.

The private session of Roosevelt and the motley collection of congressmen interested in labor legislation was as loud as a CIO convention. Roosevelt said little except to change the subject adroitly whenever the argument between the Smith-Cox-Vincent faction and the laborites reached the point where he thought they might start tossing the expensive White House furniture around. The only one present who said nothing about the labor legislation or anything else was the Labor Secretary Perkins.

No program was submitted by the president. No specific recommendations were made. The visitors thought he must have called them down merely to toss them the labor ball, and get them out of his sight. Apparently he does not want to do much quarter-backing on this play.

Whenever impatient Treasury Secretary Morgenthau broods over the question of new taxes, House Tax Chairman Doughton (who must initiate the legislation) always finds himself busy with other pressing work.

"I am fed down with the subject of economizing government expenditures," said Doughton when last asked when tax hearings would start. "It is a very important subject and I must attend the economy committee meetings."

Some think economy on non-defense activities (involving many a pet new deal social venture) will save the treasury of as much as $2,000,000,000 in new taxes. Certainly the preoccupation of Doughton in other subjects reflects a general congressional disinclination to accept Morgenthau's new tax plan.

The treasury is supposed to have a private promise of a tax hearing from Doughton in December. But the committee may yet discover something else to be too busy about then.

The boys did not mean it when they scrawled "O-H-I-O" (over the hill in October) around the army camps some months ago. The sections in October were lower than any months in the past six excepting one. They were less than one-tenth of one per cent, in this supposedly critical month, at the expiration of the first draft enlistment period.

The heralded agreement with Mexico, in essence, means they will give back part of what we will give them.

We give $10,000,000 a year for three years for the highways, use $40,000,000 to stabilize the peso, purchase 6,000,000 ounces of silver a month at 35 cents an ounce. They deposit $9,000,000 pending settlement of our oil claims (worth anywhere from $15,000,000 up) and $2,500,000 a year for fourteen years to settle our agrarian claims.

The deal might be better if an American watchman had been designated to watch the expenditure for the highways. By old Spanish custom, highway money sticks to political fingers.

Japan's biggest business powers have stepped up quietly behind fire-eating military statesmen with a hose. Their influence is being swung quietly at home against further belligerency with the U. S. They know Hitler is not going to win this war. If he did, their cheap labor would have to compete with equally cheap German labor. They would rather see a new order in which they can continue to undersell the high-living democracies.

State Tax Board Again Rules Out Property Levy

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 27.—(AP)—As it has been doing every year since 1932, the state tax rate fixing board met yesterday and decided the state government would levy no property tax for 1941.

The property tax was replaced by the retailers' occupational (sales) tax as a medium of financing the state government. The last state property tax, levied for the tax year 1932, was 50 cents per $100 of property valuation.

The rate-fixing board, required by law to meet annually, is composed of Governor Green, State Treasurer Warren Wright and Auditor Arthur C. Lueder.

Church Societies

India Centennial Festival—Missionary societies of St. Paul's Lutheran church are announcing an India Centennial celebration for 7:45 o'clock Tuesday evening, in keeping with a proclamation issued by Mrs. Sardeon of New York, president of the Women's Missionary society of the United Lutheran church of America and Canada, asking that all societies in all Lutheran churches of this branch in the United States and Canada celebrate simultaneously on that date.

A special program is being planned, including music of India, a colorful pageant, an exhibition of articles from India, and other interesting features.

Refreshments, prepared from recipes sent from India, will be served in the typical Indian manner. All members of St. Paul's church are asked to reserve Tuesday evening for this event.

Family Get-Together—A scramble supper and an informal program entertained approximately 100 members of Immanuel Lutheran church at a Family Get-Together Wednesday evening in the church parlors.

Members of the congregation gave their pastor and his wife, the Rev. and Mrs. C. L. Wagner, another cause for thankfulness during the Thanksgiving season by surprising them with a pantry shower at the close of the program.

House of Commons Votes Confidence in Churchill

London, Nov. 27.—(AP)—The house of commons today in effect voted confidence in the policies of the Churchill government.

The test came on an attempt by the four-man independent labor party to amend the house's traditional reply to the opening speech from the throne by inserting a note of regret that the speech did not include any definite proposals for changing the economic system.

The vote was 326 to 2. Had the party's amendment been adopted it would have meant that commons did not approve the policy the government now is following.

The king's speech opened the new session of parliament Nov. 12.

Tests seem to indicate that the core of the earth is made of an iron-nickel alloy.

ADELA IS RUDE

CHAPTER IX

THE Curt house was on fashionable Green street—a massive, ivy-hung stone mansion set in the midst of beautifully kept lawns. Diana knew that people who lived in Green street had lived there all their lives. No mushroom development, this, but a sturdy, steady growing with the town itself. Stephen Curt had never lived anywhere else. Seeing his home, Diana learned more in a moment about the man than had been possible in all their previous short acquaintance. She felt more of a stranger, an outsider, than ever before in her life. She thought of the simple dining-sitting room at the farm and of Stephen's easy acceptance of their ways. She'd be equally adaptable in his home. She resolved it fiercely.

Stephen introduced her to Larkin, the butler, just inside the great entrance hall. Larkin was old and dignified and looked at Stephen with adoration. He led them into the library where warmth from a log fire penetrated to the far corners of the big, book-lined room. As they crossed the hall Diana glimpsed the elegance of the drawing room—a white grand piano, a blue brocade sofa, soft, thick taupe carpeting, an Adam fireplace and glittering chandeliers.

A girl was standing by the fireplace in the library. A slender, intense-looking, dark-haired girl. As little like Stephen as could possibly be imagined. Yet he said,

"Diana, I want you to meet my sister, Adela. She knows all about our—er—arrangement and she's very grateful to you for helping me out."

Diana held out her hand, felt the strong, claw-like grasp of the girl, looked into dark, hostile eyes, a resentful gypsy face. A thin, discontented face it was, with a petulant expression about the lips. Adela was dressed in the height of fashion, but with an appalling lack of taste, in clothes which did absolutely nothing for her vivid personality. Diana sensed that Stephen was a little nervous, that he was being very careful in giving Adela her cue as to how she was to accept her new sister-in-law. She saw white teeth flash in a cruel, red mouth. The voice was too sweet, too friendly.

"Welcome to the ancestral mansion," Adela said in her peculiar, high, mocking voice. "I do hope you'll be able to stick it—until you've earned your money!"

Stephen flushed darkly, angrily, but Diana said quickly, "I always try to be efficient in any of my jobs."

The eyes of the two girls flashed and held, and after a moment Adela's fell.

LATER Stephen led Diana to the great carved stairway where Frieda, who was to be her personal maid, waited to show her to her room. Stephen said, his hand on her arm, "Please don't mind Adela. She's young—and spoiled. She's had her own way so long."

"And may continue to have it for all of me," Diana said crisply, then felt sorry for him. She smiled briefly. "Don't worry about me. I'll get along. Remember, I have red hair."

He stood there watching until she disappeared with Frieda in the upper hallway.

"I'll have to be clever—to stand up to that girl," Diana was thinking. "She knows so much more than I do about this sort of life. She'll humiliate me if she can. She's taken a dislike to me. I must be very clever."

Frieda led her into a wide, beautiful room done in blue and silver. A matching bath could be seen through a connecting door. "This will be really mine for a few months," Diana thought, thrilled as any girl would be at so much beauty and luxury. The picture of the only two other rooms she had had came into mind—the cold upstairs room at the farm, and the bare little cubicle at her recent boarding house. She ran gratefully to the bright fire sparkling on the hearth.

After a moment she turned impulsively to Frieda, a middle-aged, kind-faced woman, and held out her hand. "Can't we be friends?" she asked in her quick, impulsive way. "I don't know much about life as the Curtis live it. I'm sure you must have been here a long time. I'm going to need a lot of help—and if you'll be on my side, I'm sure I'll get along."

FRIEDA opened her eyes widely and looked into the flushed, beautiful face. The news that the young master was bringing home a bride had excited the servants greatly, and Frieda knew that she was being envied this first intimate view of the new Mrs. Curt. But she had not expected such open overtures of friendship. She smiled delightedly and her hand-clasp was firm and reassuring. "You may count on me at any time, Mrs. Curt," she said, pleased and friendly.

"One up on Adela!" Diana was thinking triumphantly. "Frieda will tell me what to do." And the serving woman had been the first to call her by her new name, Mrs. Stephen Curt!

Now Frieda walked to the dressing table, took up a slender jeweler's box, handed it to Diana. "Mr. Stephen asked me to see you got this," she said, smiling. Diana's fingers lifted the clasp. A glittering diamond bracelet met her eyes and on Stephen's card was written, "From the very grateful groom on your wedding day." Stephen had forgotten flowers, but he had remembered in a more substantial way.

It was the most beautiful thing she had ever seen. Diana lifted it, her eyes filling with quick, appreciative tears. He'd wanted to do something kind, to make her feel his concern for her the moment she entered this room that was to be so intimately hers. Her heart lifted. She would make herself happy and gay and contented. She'd never let Stephen Curt regret his bargain.

Which reminded her of Phil Bruce and Stephen's words concerning him. She found that she was still clasping the foolish little valentine bouquet, and opening one of the dresser drawers, she laid it very carefully inside.

McCRYSTAL-LUGAR WEDDING VOWS ARE SOLEMNIZED THIS MORNING AT CHURCH ALTAR

Nine o'clock high mass was solemnized at St. Patrick's Roman Catholic church this morning, uniting in marriage Miss Angie Lugar of 617 East Second street, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Lugar of LaSalle, and Arthur Dean McCrystal, son of Mrs. Arthur McCrystal of 412 East First street. The Rev. Father Thomas L. Walsh pronounced the vows before an altar screened with ferns, yellow chrysanthemums and white candles, with palms massed at the chancel rail.

A long spray of Tallasman roses was pinned to the shoulder of the brown and aqua crepe two-piece dress that Angie wore this morning when she became Dean's bride. Designed on long torso lines, the bodice was trimmed with lacing at the sides, and a row of covered buttons down the back. Aqua accents trimmed the three-quarter length sleeves. A shoulder-length veil fell from her large off-the-face picture hat of brown velvet and felt, and her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, her bridegroom's gift.

Miss Mary Frances Lugar of this city, as her sister's only attendant, selected black accessories for her frock of light blue French flannel, and was wearing a small black hat. Her shoulder corsage contained yellow roses.

Miss Helen Parker was soloist for this morning's ceremony. Her selections included "To a Wild Rose," Cadman's "At Dawning," and an "Ave Maria."

Earl Nolan was best man for "Mac". Ushering the guests to their places were John Cahill and John Mitchell.

Mrs. Lugar was attired in black velvet, with a corsage of pink carnations, for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. McCrystal, the bridegroom's mother, chose brown crepe, with a shoulder bouquet of white carnations.

Following the ceremony, breakfast was served at Peter Piper's for relatives and close friends of the bridal pair. Yellow and white appointments were used on the table, seating 24.

When "Mac" and his bride left later on a brief wedding trip, the new Mrs. McCrystal was wearing a black tailored suit with white accessories. After Dec. 1, they will be at home at 322 East Fourth street.

Mrs. McCrystal was graduated from LaSalle-Peru Township high school with the class of 1934, and is stenographer and bookkeeper for the Dixon Paint and Wallpaper company. The bridegroom, who was graduated in the same year from the Dixon high school, is with Erzinger's Shoe store.

Out of town guests here for the wedding included the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Lugar of LaSalle; her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Lugar of LaSalle; the bridegroom's brother, Robert McCrystal of Rockford, and his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Minor Angle of Chicago.

Last evening, members of the bridal party were having dinner together at Peter Piper's.

November Bride

Mrs. D. J. Record

Before her marriage on Thanksgiving Day at Grace Lutheran church in Chicago, Mrs. Record was Miss Eleanor Clara Kurzrock, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Fischer of 521 Hennepin avenue and Mrs. Henry Kurzrock of 401 Peoria avenue. The vows were solemnized in a double ring service read at 4 o'clock by the Rev. Mr. Twittemeyer.

White chrysanthemums and ferns were used to decorate the church, lighted with white tapers. A. Walters played the nuptial prelude, concluding with the Lohengrin wedding march.

Miss Carol Evelyn Kurzrock of Dixon was maid of honor for her sister, wearing an Alice blue crepe frock with black accessories, and a corsage of pink orchids.

The bride, a daughter of the W. H. Kurzrocks of Kewanee, wore an aqua blue gown, with brown accessories of Ivory Throat orchids. For her "something old," she carried a small black Bible, a gift of a great-aunt, Mrs. Herman Rommelt of Dixon, and for "something new," she wore her bridegroom's gift, a blue sapphire and diamond dinner ring.

Robert C. Browne of Sterling was best man. William W. Kurzrock, twin brother of the maid of honor, gave his sister in marriage.

Mrs. Kurzrock chose a gown of black velvet with pearl trim for her daughter's wedding. American Beauty roses formed her corsage. Mrs. John E. Fischer of Dixon, the bride's grandmother, was dressed in black crepe, with a corsage of violets.

A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Richards, 603 Fullerton Parkway, formerly of Kewanee. A buffet supper was served by Mrs. Richards and Miss Alice Kurzrock.

PAN-AMERICAN FLAGS TO WAVE AT SERVICE CLUB'S "GOOD NEIGHBOR FIESTA", FRIDAY

With numerous ticket deliveries yet to be made and numerous other last-minute duties awaiting attention, members of the Service club nevertheless were taking time out today to inspect and admire their decorative efforts in the ballroom of Brinton Memorial Masonic temple, where they will be sponsoring their third annual charity ball tomorrow night. Although members of Mrs. Forrest Trautwein's committee reluctant to release a detailed description of the decorations (already in place, after long hours of cutting, draping, hammering and spacing), they admit are well-pleased with the results.

For instance, they confide, flags of each of the 21 Pan-American countries, to say nothing of posters from the Pan-American building in Washington, no less, (all obtained through courtesy of Lyle Snader, secretary to Congressman Leo E. Allen) will lend a colorful note to the big room, in keeping with the "Good Neighbor Fiesta" theme for the event.

Herbie Palmer's band will be entertaining from 9:30 o'clock until 1, allowing time for numerous informal parties before the dancing begins.

Profits from tomorrow night's dance, as is the Service club's custom, will be used to purchase needed furnishings at Katherine Shaw Bethea hospital—the group's sole philanthropic project, except in instances of personal subscription. Mrs. W. A. McNichols is general chairman for the dance.

Yellow and white appointments were used on the candlelit table, centered by the bride's cake. John Alden and Priscilla in miniature were reminders of the holiday date.

Mrs. Record, who was born in Dixon and has spent considerable time here with her grandparents, was graduated from the Wethersfield high school, later attending Carthage college, where she was pledged to Phi Phi Nu sorority. She has been employed as cashier of the Lincoln Parkway restaurant.

Mr. Record, a son of the James Records of Iowa City, was graduated from Iowa City high school and attended the University of Iowa. He is employed by the Union Pacific and Inner State Transit Lines.

After Dec. 1, Mr. and Mrs. Record will be at home at 603 Fullerton Parkway, Chicago.

Maytown Girl Becomes Bride

St. Patrick's church at Maytown was the scene of an impressive wedding ceremony on Thanksgiving morning, in which Miss Helen E. Ryan, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Ryan of Maytown, became the bride of Frank E. Johnson, son of the Robert Johnsons of Ohio, Ill. The Rev. Father Urban Halmaier celebrated the nuptial high mass at 9 o'clock.

Miss Marie Faivre presided at the organ, playing the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin", as the bride entered the church with her brother.

The bride's gown of white slipper satin was designed on princess lines, with bouffant skirt and train. Her fingertip veil of illusion was lace-trimmed, and fell from a crown of seed pearls caught with orange blossoms. She carried a cascade bouquet of Kilmory roses and bouvardia, and a pearl rosary that was her gift from the groom.

Miss Marie Ryan, as her sister's maid of honor, wore an aqua gown of metallic brocaded satin, also princess style, with a matching blusher veil. Her cascade bouquet contained bronze and yellow chrysanthemums.

Marilyn Ryan, niece of the bride, and Ann Gugerty, niece of the bridegroom, were junior bridesmaids. They were wearing princess gowns of pink satin, and carried colonial bouquets of Virginia carnations and chrysanthemums.

Francis Ryan, brother of the bride, served Mr. Johnson as best man.

An offertory, Miss Abbie Reuter sang Rosewig's "Ave Maria." Other selections included "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother", sung after the mass. Miss Reuter, Miss Mary Alice Quinn and Mrs. Bert Needham sang the nuptial mass.

The bridegroom's mother was dressed in black crepe, with a corsage of white carnations at her shoulder.

Following the ceremony, a breakfast was served for the wedding party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Blaine. At noon, a four-course turkey dinner was served for 50 relatives and friends at the Hotel Nachusa in Dixon, followed by a reception at the Blaine home.

Dukes to Open Cage Season at Freeport Tomorrow Eve

Locals Face Strong Foe For Opening Game on Pretzels' Court

It will take more than Carter's Little Liver Pills to brighten the Dixon Dukes who await their 1941-42 basketball season opener tomorrow night at Freeport. From the north comes reports of scads of returning lettermen and powerful juniors who are just cramping ready to pounce on the visitors.

Cyril Shank, varsity player of last year who scored a total of 62 points, is Coach L. E. Sharpe's only veteran as he takes his basketballers to the big, high-ceiling gym at Freeport for what may turn into a chilly reception.

The Freeport Pretzels, have a way of striking terror in the hearts of the Dixon players. They, more than any other team of recent years, have nipped the Dukes' tournament hopes. Last year the Pretzels defeated the Dukes in three games—and at no time by more than three points.

But in basketball, the old adage: "While there's life, there's hope," is certainly true. There isn't a sport as uncertain as the cage game and for that reason the Dukes stand a 50-50 chance of surviving their first encounter.

Over at the local gymnasium where the Dukes work out each night, Coach Sharpe has been pondering on a starting lineup. Although game-time may fine some changes, it is likely that Frank Leeper and Walter Knack, both juniors, will get a forward assignment with Senior Cy Shank at center and Bill Loftus, a junior, and Paul Reynolds, a senior, at guards.

Other Candidates

Other seniors who may see action in the game are Ken Potts, Harold Salzman, Jo Van Meter, Junior Webb and Ossie Zimmerman. Other candidates from the junior class are John Collins, Donald Edwards, Floyd Egler, Fred Howard, Bryce Hubbard, Donald Koth, Gordon Ommen, Wayne Pierce, Wallace Schnake and John Todor.

In practice this season, Shank has been heaviest scorer of the team, and Frank Leeper, sophomore flash of last year who counted heavily with under-the-basket shots, hasn't reached boil temperature yet. Among the guards, Loftus and Hubbard are doing well in practice and Van Meter may earn a starting position at forward before tomorrow night. Floyd Egler, center member of last year's championship sophomore team, was out for practice for the first time Tuesday night, having been delayed by a bad shoulder injury in football.

Coach Lindell, looking over the list of frosh-soph candidates, for the opening encounter tomorrow night, has indicated that Bill Goff and Ted Mason are likely to get the starting assignments as forwards with Gene Frey as another possibility. Robert Marshall or Bivins, the latter is a freshman, may start at center and Don Bowers and James Williams will probably start as guards with Robert Cramer and Monte Miller as other likely defense players.

Following their Freeport invasion, the Dukes will be seen in their first home game here on December 5 when they meet the alumni.

NAVY PULLS OLD ARMY GAME ON CADETS TO GET WAGERS

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 27—(AP)—Navy's pulling that old army game—the Army.

Each year Midshipman cadet regiments wage bathrobes, sweaters, cuff links—and even full uniforms—on the outcome of the Army-Navy pigskin feud. And Saturday's Philadelphia classic is no exception.

Tradition dictates an even bet, regardless of the strength of either football clan. Navy is favored to take the colorful 42nd service clash and the Middles claim that is why they're having difficulty getting their bets covered.

So they're using the old army game. To get wagers accepted, the sailors are telling the West Pointers to "put up or shut up." And you don't know your cadets if you think they won't take a dare.

That's exactly how the Middles figure the Graylegs will react. The Middles have done a good job of accumulating Army's gray bathrobes and black sweaters, with Navy gaining 10-0 and 14-0 victories the last two years.

The gold braid—and brasshats too—frown on cash bets between regiments, so they are taboo. Academy rules permit Midshipmen to wear cadet bathrobes, sweaters and cuff links.

Of $1,504,411,000 total defense savings bonds receipts since last May, series "E" bonds for the small investors amounted to about 38 per cent of the total.

Williams' Quintet Sets New Record in Classic League

With three fellows cracking the 200 total in their first game, the Williams DeSoto quintet shifted into high gear last night and set a new high game record for the Classic League with a total of 1083 pins.

In spite of the heat in their first game the Williams pinner dropped two games to Beier's Bread. Leading the doughboys was Breeding with a 583 series and Worley counted the evening's high series with 622 on games of 236-194-192.

The I. N. U. was the only quintet to win three games as the powerhouse boys spilled the United Cigars. Leading the utilities was Kellers with 485 and Fitzsimmons' 547 was tops for the smokers.

Welch & Brader won two games from Boynton-Richards with Ransome rolling 535 for the winners and J. Miller counting 534 for the clothiers.

Wilbur Lumber company, second-place quintet, won two games from Welty's Pontiacs as Wilbur counted 562 for his mates and Faber rolled 512 for the automen.

Bonded Gas & Oil won two games from Jay's Tavern. Leading the winners was Giller with 489 and Beane counted 544 for the losers.

Smith Takes 610

Gold Buckle Orange, cellar team of the league, took two games from Knacks. Topping the orange-men was Rowland with 496 and Smith's 610 in games of 166-211-233 was high for the losing outfit.

Shuck's Grocery, leaders of the big 16-team circuit, won two games from Old Style lager. Shuck counted 543 for the winners and Naylor's 519 was tops for Old Style.

MIGHTY TEXAS A. & M. PUTS FINE RECORD ON LINE TODAY IN HOLIDAY TILT WITH TEXAS

College Station, Tex., Nov. 27—(AP)—Mighty Texas A. & M. laid one of college football's greatest records on the line today in the forty-eighth renewal of the south-west's oldest and bitterest feud.

A University of Texas team, whose championship hopes crashed ten days ago but which was determined to snatch the greatest victory of them all, rolls against the undefeated, united caddis before a crowd of 38,200—the second largest in the history of the annual classic.

The Aggies, despite their great record—28 victories out of 29 games in three years along with two Southwest Conference championships and a tie for another—were rated only slender favorites.

Should A. & M. win today, a decision is expected immediately after the game on the bowl choice of the Aggies.

If Texas wins, there reportedly is a good chance of the Longhorns being invited to a bowl although they have lost one game and tied one.

Only once, in 1923, has a Texas team beaten A. & M. at college station. And it was D. X. Bible, now coach at Texas, who was coach of A. & M. when the Aggies suffered the defeat.

Walnut Cagers Trim LaMoille, 47 to 20, in Season Opener

(Telegraph Special Service)

Walnut, Nov. 27—Although they led by only one tally at the end of the first quarter, the Walnut cagers gathered steam Tuesday night and led their Lamolite visitors, 18 to 10, by the halftime. Increasing their speed, the hosts swamped Lamolite, 47 to 20, in the final score.

Scoring honors were claimed by Verden Peach, forward for Walnut, who made 11 buckets and two free throws for 24 points. Galetti's seven tallies were high for Lamolite.

It was the first game of the season for Coach Noel Mosher's winners and tomorrow night the team goes to Tampico.

Lamolite's reserves opened the season by nipping Walnut's lightweight's 9 to 8.

West. Conference Teams Threw Fewer Passes This Season

Chicago, Nov. 27—(AP)—Western conference football teams resorted to fewer passes in league play this season, but the payoff was greater than in 1940.

Statistics released today showed that while scoring in general reached a new peak, the average number of passes thrown a game was only 11.6 as compared with 13.2 last year. However, the effectiveness increased—383 compared with last year's 369 percentage of completion and so did the yardage per pass, 16.1 as against last season's 13.5.

In 23 conference games, 25 passes were good for touchdowns as against 20 in 1940.

The bulk of scoring, however, in title games continued on the ground and from close to the goal line. Of a total of 97 touchdowns, 62 were made by rushing and 42 of those came from within the 10-yard stripe.

Average 28.6 Points

In all, teams averaged 28.6 points for 23 conference games, one better than the 1940 average and two points above the 1939 mark.

Average yardage gained from scrimmage per game per team was 236.7 or 23 over the 1940 average. Gains by rushing increased from 148 yards in 1940 to 165 and by passing from 65.7 to 71.7.

Free substitution of specialty men, such as place kickers, under the 1941 rule showed up in an average of 7.11 conversions as against 5.56 last year. On the other hand, only one field goal went into the records. There were nine in 1940. Punting averages fell off from 37.5 yards per kick last year to 34.4.

A 1941 coincidence was the fact the longest run from scrimmage, the longest pass and the longest pass interception return—all for touchdowns—covered the same distance, 72 yards.

BOURDEAU HOPES TO REMAIN WITH ILLINI AWHILE

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 27—(AP)—Lou Boudreau, a gifted baseball and basketball player, has another talent. It is public speaking.

And just as the University of Illinois lost his athletic prowess to Cleveland four years ago, today it is his speech making ability—because the 24 year old Cleveland shortstop now must give full attention to a new Cleveland role, playing manager.

Boudreau, in the off season, has assisted at Illinois in coaching basketball and baseball and also is one of the most "availed speakers on the staff.

Boudreau said he would attempt to remain here in his coaching capacity until February if satisfactory arrangements could be made with the Cleveland club.

However, Doug Mills, Illinois athletic director declared "as much as we dislike losing Boudreau, the athletic department naturally will in no manner stand in his way to advancement. He not only has been of great value to us as a coach, but his pleasing personality already has played a prominent part in selling Illinois to the prep athletes of the state."

Cancels Engagements

In order to keep his Tuesday appointment with Alva Bradley, president of the Cleveland club, Boudreau had to cancel speaking engagements at four Illinois cities—Sparta, Casey, Carro Gordo and Peoria.

Boudreau, who returned from Cleveland yesterday, said he had "no idea what Mr. Bradley wanted when he called Monday while I was on the gym floor. I had read that he had given up the idea because he thought I was too young. I felt the same way."

"When I got to the Cleveland office," Boudreau recalled, "Mr. Bradley was waiting for me and we talked four hours, discussing every phase of the sport. Then he said he had decided to offer me the managership."

"I guess that was the biggest moment in my life."

RIGGS AND KOVACS SWITCH FROM AMATEURS TO PROS TO PICK UP SHEKLES IN TENNIS

New York, Nov. 27—(AP)—Two amateur tennis thrones of the United States stood empty today after the abduction of both the outdoor and indoor rulers to search for the gold that lies in the trail of the touring professionals.

National Outdoor Champion Bobby Riggs and Frank Kovacs, the court jester who wore the indoor crown, switched from amateurs to pros less than 24 hours after Kovacs was suspended on a charge of trying to mix the two.

Now the United States Lawn Tennis Association, which accused Kovacs of having more than one tennis racket, faces 1942 with the problem of staging both its major amateur tournaments without a defending champion in the men's division.

the longest pass and the longest pass interception return—all for touchdowns—covered the same distance, 72 yards.

Probe of "Lobby Racketeering" in Capital Favored

Washington, Nov. 27—(AP)—Rep. Adolph Sabath (D-Ill.), chairman of the rules committee, and Rep. Andrew May (D-Ky.), chairman of the military affairs committee, assert they are in full sympathy with a demand for a general investigation of "racketeering lobbyists" made on the house floor by Rep. Bernard Gehrman (R-Ind.).

The two chairmen of important house committees made the assertion in connection with a statement yesterday favoring a congressional investigation of the activities of Charles West, former Undersecretary of the Interior and former Ohio representative, who has filed suit for commissions claimed on war contracts.

Both May and Sabath declared they considered the employment of former government employees by corporations seeking war contracts improper and warranting action. They disclosed they intended to support any move for an early inquiry.

Noting that Gehrman intended to request the rules committee to give his resolution the right of way, Sabath said "I am going to give it a hearing. The town is full of lobbyists pressing for contracts and I am in favor of eliminating them all. I am in favor of action particularly to prevent big corporations from employing many persons supposedly having influence with government officials."

President of IAA Challenges Labor to Stop Striking

Smith Says Laborers Should Recognize They Have Duties

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 27—(AP)—Earl C. Smith, president of the Illinois Agricultural Association, today challenged labor to pledge a moratorium on strikes during the national defense emergency.

"In the interest of building an immediate and adequate national defense, and in the name of America, its institutions and its ideals, farmers challenge industrial workers of the United States to call an immediate moratorium on all work stoppages, strikes, or other industrial strife for the term of this emergency," Smith declared in an address prepared for the opening general session of the IAA's 27th annual convention.

"American labor, as well as farmers, should recognize they have most at stake in protecting this country from the inroads of alien philosophies. Farmers have given assurance to the nation of a supply of farm products to the full extent of their ability."

He said labor's purchasing power with respect to farm prices is now the highest of record, being "nearly one-fourth over that of 1939 and 76 per cent over that of 1914."

The Illinois farm leader called for united support of the government but warned that personalities and partisan considerations should be avoided by government officials in determining defense policies.

No More Delusions

"It is necessary that the people be no longer deluded with assurances that social gains made during recent years will not be interfered with, nor should there be any attempt for further social gains during the period of emergency."

"Instead of working less and less, for more and more, everybody, whether in the field, the factory, the mine or the office, will be giving more and more for less and less."

Smith praised the Agricultural Adjustment Act for providing a reserve supply of foodstuffs for defense needs, but added there was "a need for its continuance and refinement, and for simplification in its operation."

He criticized the spread of AAA administrative machinery "into broader fields of activity, the creeping in of some partisan influences, at least in some sections, the addition of unnecessary personnel, and the extension of the costs of administration far beyond that which is justified."

Green Speaks Tonight

Speaking briefly on state issues, Smith termed "regrettable" the defeat of the milk control bill in the Illinois house of representatives.

tives and declared that the bill would have provided the state department of agriculture with the means of safeguarding the sale of milk to the public.

Governor Green was scheduled to address the association's second general session this evening at which other speakers will be Branch Rickey, vice-president and general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals; and W. W. Waymack, vice-president and editorial director of the Des Moines Register & Tribune.

District meetings and conferences were held this afternoon and other features of the day's program included forums on marketing, soil improvement, public relations and organization.

RETIRED PREACHER DIES

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 27—(AP)—The Rev. Arthur H. Smith, 67, Methodist minister in a dozen central Illinois cities before retiring in September, died yesterday in the Methodist hospital.

He had been preaching at Green Valley the last few months when his ailing health permitted. His previous pastorates were in Farmington, Kankakee, Peoria, Bradley, Loda, Saunemin, Wellington, Grand Ridge, Bradford, Canton, Kewanee and Pontiac.

TRAFFIC FATALITY

Kampsville, Ill., Nov. 27—(AP)—Luther E. Huett, 50, was killed last night in a collision of his truck and a car driven by Archie Schlieper of Pearl on route 100 north of here. Huett's wife was hurt and Schlieper, who was seriously injured, was taken to a hospital in Alton.

New York, Ohio, and Vermont produce three-fourths of the maple sugar in the United States.

FAIR WARNING

Denver, Colo., Nov. 27—(AP)—Noisy milk men always did bother C. Paul Harrington and he couldn't do much about it.

But it's different now. City Councilman Harrington has served notice his sleep was being disturbed by the early rising dairymen and they'd better be quiet, or else.
